A LETTER FROM THE CMSA PRESIDENT - David Bolton

Usually at this time of year, things tend to slow down a bit but with exciting plans in the works for our upcoming Conference at Santa Barbara (February 15-17, 2013) and the upcoming publication of the Boletín (with an early November distribution date), things have been very busy within CMSA circles these past few weeks. This edition of Correo includes all kinds of updates, from details of what to expect in the Boletín, to the latest news regarding what is turning out to be quite an Annual Conference at Santa Barbara.

As we distribute another edition of our monthly newsletter Correo, our much-anticipated Boletín, the acclaimed Journal of CMSA, is off to the presses – all 136 pages. As always, a lot went into this publication, as we try to continue the tradition established so professionally by previous editors Rose Marie Beebe and Bob Senkewicz some 10 years ago. You'll need to be a current CMSA member with dues paid-in-full to receive your complimentary copy of the Boletín in early November. So join today, if you haven't already. A special thank you is due my Boletín co-editor Sue Moran, associate editor Kim Johnston, and our entire Editorial Advisory Committee for their hard work in helping to make this Boletín a reality.

The CMSA Annual Conference February 15-17, 2013 at Santa Barbara is one to not miss. It will mark the 30th Anniversary of CMSA, as well as the 300th Anniversary of the birth year of Junípero Serra. For the first time, Friday will be a full day of activity, with tours of the Presidio grounds; an optional on-site lunch; afternoon Papers in the Presidio Chapel; a late afternoon Keynote Address by Serra biographer Steve Hackel; a hosted reception at historic Casa De La Guerra; and a memorable evening event in the church of Santa Barbara’s Old Mission, featuring a blessing by Chumash elders, followed by music from John Warren and his New World Baroque Orchestra. Saturday will be a full day devoted to the Mission of Santa Bárbara, with a morning breakfast and tour in the La Huerta garden; Papers in the Mission’s Friar’s Lounge; and three exciting afternoon tours of the Mission complex – the Archive Library, the historic Water System, and the rarely-seen Treasurers Room. The evening will be highlighted by a reception, the annual CMSA Banquet, and Neuerburg and Kimbro Awards at the mission revival Montecito Country Club. Sunday morning will be a terrific send-off, back at

SPECIAL SPEAKERS SELECTED FOR 2013 CMSA CONFERENCE - DR. STEVEN HACKEL AND DR. RUBEN MENDOZA

Two well-respected and highly regarded experts have been chosen to present a pair of special talks at the upcoming 2013 CMSA Conference February 15-17, 2013 in Santa Barbara.

Dr. Steven Hackel, a professor at UC Riverside, author of the upcoming biography on Junípero Serra and co-Curator for the much anticipated Serra exhibit scheduled for next year at the Huntington Library in Pasadena, will give the CMSA Conference Keynote Address on Friday, February 15 inside the El Presidio de Santa Bárbara Chapel. The Keynote, titled "Junípero Serra and the Super Natural," will begin at 4:00 p.m. and will immediately precede the hosted CMSA Reception for all conference attendees. The Keynote Address will be the highlight of an entire slate of presentations held for the first time on the Friday afternoon of the Conference.

The following day, Dr. Rubén Mendoza will give the annual special post-lunch presentation: "Illuminations at the Serra Missions and Presidios." This talk will begin at 1:00 p.m. at Mission Santa Barbara, site of the day-long Conference Paper Presentations on Saturday, February 16. Mendoza is an archaeologist, writer, and photographer. He has directed major archaeological investigations and conservation projects at missions San Juan Bautista, San Carlos Borromeo de Carmelo, and Nuestra Señora de la Soledad, among others. Recent efforts at the Royal Presidio of Monterey resulted in the tandem discovery of the earliest Fray Junípero Serra chapels in California, dated at 1770 and 1771. His Mission Solstice Survey has, in turn, resulted in the astronomically and liturgically-significant discoveries of solstice, equinox, and feast day solar illuminations of mission church altars throughout California, the US Southwest, and Mesoamerica.

Registration for the 2013 CMSA Conference will begin on-line in December. More details to follow in both the November and December editions of the Correo.

CMSA CONFERENCE 2013 - CALL FOR PAPERS

CMSA Conference 2013 - Call for Papers
Santa Barbara, California, February 15-17, 2013
El Presidio y la Misión de Santa Barbara
Siempre Adelante, Nunca Atras: Always Forward, Never Back

For our 2013 conference, CMSA continues to move forward, and will be celebrating a pair of special anniversaries: CMSA's 30th, and the 300th anniversary of Fray Junipero Serra's birth year. With that in mind, the theme Siempre Adelante, Nunca Atras (Always Forward, Never Back) has been chosen as the theme for this memorable Conference. For the first time, and to help accommodate a growing interest from presenters, the 2013 edition of the annual CMSA Conference will feature Papers on both Friday (at El Presidio de Santa Barbara) and Saturday (at Old Mission Santa Barbara).

If you would like to submit a presentation for consideration, please send:
1) An abstract of 100 to 200 words. Indicate if it is a single presentation (20 min.), or a panel session (60 min.)
2) Names of all presenters, affiliation(s), contact information (including e-mail)
3) Audio-visual requirements
Due by email, or postmarked by December 1, 2012 to: CMSA Program Coordinators:
2013CMSAConferenceProposals@ca-missions.org
Prospective presenters should be prepared to submit both a synopsis and list of sources with their proposals.

The conference theme, Siempre Adelante, Nunca Atras: Always Forward, Never Back, invites presentations that speak not only to the life of Junipero Serra, but also to the decades-long-history of "moving forward" during Spain's expansion in the New World. After all, if it had not been for that, a Forward movement, the missionaries and Presidio soldiers would have never made it to Alta California.

As it turned out, Santa Barbara was the last place where Father Serra would raise the Founding Cross at what he called "El Presidio y La Misión de Santa Barbara." It's fitting that CMSA's 2013 Conference during Serra's 300th birth year anniversary is jointly held at what would eventually become two distinct, unique and historic locations: the Royal Presidio and the Old Mission.

Given the region's significance in the life of Serra, the CMSA Papers Committee is interested in papers that deal with the life and legacy of this famed missionary, but also a variety of other topics, including mission foods and wine; as Santa Barbara County has become one of the state's leading wine regions. The Committee is also interested in papers dealing with California Indian experiences at the missions, skills-based sessions for docents and teachers, the latest in archaeological exploration, architecture and mission material culture, such as pottery and textiles. Presenters, however, should not feel limited to these topics alone.

As always, CMSA encourages presentations by a wide range of participants from varying disciplines. We also encourage speakers to remember that they are also presenting to a group with a wide range of interests and backgrounds. We welcome students and new professionals, along with long-time participants. Presentation formats may be individual papers, or complete panels. CMSA program coordinators may be able to help you to develop a panel that complements other elements of the conference program still in process. Unconventional presentation formats are also welcome. Please note that all presenters must register for the conference.
The Saturday day-long sessions will also be held at the Old Mission Santa Barbara, with lunch prepared in the Mission's La Huerta.

CMSA's 2013 Awards Banquet will be held Saturday evening at the picturesque Mission-revival Montecito Country Club.

The Conference wraps up Sunday morning back at El Presidio with a special mass featuring the original Serra chalice, followed by a re-enactment of Fray Junipero raising his last founding cross at what he called the "Presidio y Mision de Santa Barbara."

A complete schedule of CMSA Conference activities for 2013 follows. This month in Correo, details on lodging are included, as well as The Call for Papers. Stay tuned. It should be a memorable and historic CMSA Conference. You definitely won't want to miss this one.

CMSA kicks off the year-long festivities with its annual Conference, February 15-17, 2013 in Santa Barbara - the last place Serra raised the founding cross as he established what he noted was ‘the founding of the Presidio and Mission’ at Santa Barbara.

Additionally, events commemorating this special 300th anniversary will be held throughout the year from Mallorca, Spain -- Serra’s birthplace -- to Querétaro, Mexico and Alta California -- places of Serra’s famed missionary work.

Here in Correo, we plan to keep you up-to-date with the latest calendar of events celebrating the 300th birthday and birth year of who many call the Father of Alta California’s missions.

Please let us know of Serra related events in your area so that we can keep everyone informed. Email us anytime at JuniperoSerra300@ca-missions.org

As Serra so often said, Siempre Adelante, Nunca Atras ... Always Forward, Never Back

FATHER JUNIPERO SERRA FACTS

Here in Correo, we plan to bring you interesting tidbits of this famed missionary’s life each month leading up to his 300th Birthday on November 24, 2013.

1749 - Serra arrives in the New World first on the island of Puerto Rico where he spends a short time before reaching his ultimate destination: the shores of Mexico at Veracruz.

From Veracruz, Serra heads over land to today’s Mexico D.F. region where, in 1750, he arrives at the Franciscan Convento de San Fernando to begin preparation to become a missionary.

1750 - Six months later, Serra is assigned to the missions of the Sierra Gorda mountain range in Queretaro where he labors amongst the local natives -- the Pames. Serra would serve as Father President for three years at the five Sierra Gorda missions: Jalpan, Landa, Tancoyol, Tilaco and Conda.

1758 - Serra returns to the Convento de San Fernando where he would spend the next eight years before being assigned to administer the former Jesuit missions of Baja California and to help lead the expansion into Alta California.

Next month: Serra travels to Alta California.

SERRA 300-RELATED PHOTO - CHURCH OF THE CONVENTO DE SAN FERNANDO IN MEXICO CITY

!Facade of the Church of the Convento de San Fernando. The church was built of a volcanic rock known as tezontle, which was commonly used in colonial/era structures in Mexico City.

That is all that remains from the Apostolic College of San Fernando. This was the institution in Mexico City that sent Serra and his colleagues, and that administered the California missions.

Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens
Virginia Steele Scott Galleries, Erburu Wing
Aug. 17, 2013 - Jan. 6, 2014

The 300th anniversary of the birth of one of the most influential, yet least understood, figures in California history will be marked by a major exhibition at The Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens. With more than 200 objects drawn from The Huntington's collections and some 50 international lenders, "Missions, Myths, and Memories: The Life and Legacies of Junípero Serra" will be the first exhibition to present an in-depth portrait of the founder of the California missions.
mission system. It will examine the Early Modern Catholic worlds of Spain and Mexico where Serra (1713 -1784) was born, lived, and worked; the ways in which Native American life and culture were at the center of Serra's missions; and the emergence of competing versions of Serra's legacy through time. The exhibition will coincide with the publication of Father Junipero Serra: California's Founding Father (Hill & Wang) by exhibition co-curator Steven Hackel, professor of history at the University of California, Riverside.

SERRA 300 EVENT - THE CALIFORNIA MISSION CRUISE - APRIL 6 - 13, 2013

Statue of Fr. Junipero Serra

Mission San Buenaventura is offering a very fitting and exciting way to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the birth of Fr. Junipero Serra–The California Mission Cruise, a-one-of-a-kind ocean voyage enabling up to 50 travelers to visit and learn more about six California missions, from April 6 to April 13, 2013.

(For further information, please refer to the September Correo, which features an interview with Janis Nelson, Director of Music and Liturgy at Mission San Buenaventura and an organizer of the trip, to be led by Fr.Tom Elewaut, Pastor of the Mission.)

Here is an overview of what to expect:

Round trip ground transportation Ventura/Los Angeles Port

The Sapphire Princess, sister ship to the Pacific Princess, featured on the "Love Boat," will leave Los Angeles for San Francisco on Saturday, April 6. From San Francisco, there will be a bus excursion to two missions, Mission Dolores (San Francisco de Asis) and Mission San Rafael. At each mission, there will be a special guided tour.

After leaving the Bay Area, the Sapphire Princess will dock in Santa Barbara, where the group will visit Mission Santa Barbara and Mission Santa Ines and will receive guided tours. The next stop will be Catalina Island, a free day. From there, the ship will arrive at San Diego, where the group will disembark to see and learn about Mission San Diego and Mission San Luis Rey, again on guided tours. Then the ship will dock in Ensenada, Mexico, for another free day.

Finally, the Sapphire Princess will return to Los Angeles on April 13 for final disembarkation.

Although it would be wonderful to visit all of the missions located near the ports of disembarkation, the organizers had to select those that could fit into the constraints of the ship's tight schedule, according to Janis Nelson, who provided an interview in the September Correo.

The only way to participate in The California Mission Cruise, which includes the Princess Coastal Cruise and the land excursions to the six Missions, is to make your reservations through CARPENTER TRAVEL, Barbara Carpenter's travel agency. She is the sole creator of this unique and historic tour. Please click on the links below for more details.

In addition, the 2013 CMSA Conference at Santa Barbara will feature many items of particular interest to Mission Docents statewide. Docents play a key role in helping to tell the Mission Story to visitors, students and teachers. CMSA encourages Docent participation at our Annual Conferences. It’s a great way to interact with those from other historic sites and who share your field of interest, as well as to hear a variety of presentations from leading experts, historians and scholars. CMSA was originally started by Docents, many from Mission San Juan Capistrano. We welcome everyone to Santa Barbara. It’ll be a great Conference!
Please let us know how and when you would like people to sign up to become docents. Please send all of your Docent Spotlight ideas and information to docents@ca-missions.org

BUEN PROVECHO! - CMSA'S FOOD CORNER - LA BERENJENA CON HUEVOS Y SALSA - EGGPLANT WITH EGGS AND SALSA

By David Bolton

This time of year eggplant is abundant. The plants that I planted late spring are now full of flowers, and eggplants are sprouting in their rich color. Originally from Southeast Asia and the Middle East, eggplants made their way to Europe and have been a part of Mediterranean cuisine for some time.

A Spanish dish Pisto is a regional dish prepared throughout Murcia. It is made by sautéing in olive oil tomatoes, onions, eggplant, green and red peppers. This mixture is often served warm with bread or a fried egg, and can often be used as a filling in empanadas.

Italians have been using eggplant for centuries in dishes like eggplant parmesan, and in southeastern Europe, my mom’s side of the family has been preparing Moussaka with layered eggplant, meat, potatoes and sauce for centuries.

I am passing along two eggplant dishes that I had fun creating with eggplant from the garden – a breakfast plate and a dip or spread.

When friends come over, it is fun to experiment with food and new combinations. During the weekend of the recent CMF Missions Director and Curators conference, our friends Lupita and Lilly from CAREM in Baja California stayed over. Sunday morning was a time for me to experiment in the kitchen. I was pleased that the ladies enjoyed this breakfast dish using eggplant from the garden and combining touches of Italy, Spain and Mexico. Buen Provecho!

LA BERENJENA con HUEVOS y SALSA
Eggplant with Eggs and Salsa

Serves 6 regular, or 3 large appetite individuals

SALSA
10 cherry tomatoes, sliced in half
3 gloves garlic - minced
12 Basil leaves
Salt and fresh ground pepper
1 chile - minced jalapeño, Serrano or other
Olive oil

Sauté garlic and chile lightly in olive oil, add salt and pepper. Add broken up Basil leaves, and then add the sliced cherry tomatoes. Stir lightly on low heat. Once tomatoes have released their juice, cover and turn off heat.

SAUTEED EGGPLANT

1 large eggplant sliced cross ways in ½ inch rings
¼ cup flour
1 egg yolk beaten with a fork and mixed with a bit of cream or milk
Olive oil for sautéing

Put flour on a flat dish
Beat egg with milk or cream in a small bowl
Add olive oil to sauté pan and turn to medium heat

One-by-one, place an eggplant slice in the flour, swirl around, and turn it over, coating the other side as well. Pat off excess flour, and transfer eggplant slice to the beaten egg and milk mixture. Swirl around to coat, turn over and repeat on the other side. Turn eggplant sideways so that excess egg drips off. Place the coated eggplant in the sauté plan, and lightly sauté on both side until golden brown. Remove and place on a large dinner plate topped with a kitchen paper towel.
to absorb excess oil. Repeat the procedure until you have six eggplant rings prepared.

EGGS

6 eggs
A little olive oil
Salt and pepper

Poached eggs would work, but I made this dish recently with lightly fried eggs.

After frying the eggs to taste, lightly salt and pepper

SERVING

On a plate, put an eggplant ring down first, top with an egg, and smother in the tomato basil salsa.

Top with a few pinches of ripped fresh Basil for color

For hungry appetites, serve two per person. If serving one, place a side of any kind of breakfast sausage or fruit.

-------------------------------------------------------------

AN EGGPLANT DIP OR SPREAD

If you have left-over eggplant and are not sure what else to do with it, someone suggested making a dip or spread. Rather than "googling" for a recipe, I like to experiment. This one came out better than I had expected. I've made it three times since! It works as a nice dip for zucchini slices, or crackers or chips, and could also be used as a sandwich or pita spread.

Ingredients:
2 large eggplants
Juice of 1 lemon
4 cloves garlic
1 Tablespoon capers
Salt and Pepper
¼ cup milk, cream, or any dairy
I use the Trader Joe's Brand for the next 3 items:
1 Tablespoon mayonnaise
2 Tablespoon each non-fat Greek yogurt and sour cream

In a 350 degree oven, place two washed eggplants with the tops cut off and the bottom cored and cook for about 20 minutes. Remove and let cool.

Slice in half lengthwise. With your fingers, or a small spoon, scoop out all of the insides leaving just the skin. Place the scooped-out insides into a blender. Discard the skin. Add the above ingredients, and blend lightly, moving up in speed to about medium. Once everything is incorporated, place this mixture in a serving bowl.

I've had a larger-than-expected crop of zucchini this summer, and they keep coming this fall. I sliced one up crosswise into 1/4 inch slices and used those instead of chips or crackers with this dip.

Buen Provecho!

ALONG THE MISSION TRAIL - AN UPDATE FROM THE BAJA CALIFORNIA MISSION GROUP - CAREM

By Zella R. de Ibáñez
Executive Director (Volunteer)
www.carem.org

It is indeed a pleasure to report again on activities regarding the missions of Baja California and Baja California Sur. Corredor Historico CAREM, A. C. discovered recently that we have a challenge which is to help those who do not know the makeup of the peninsula of Baja California to understand it better. The peninsula is comprised of two States: Baja California and Baja California Sur. Of course, they are completely separate with different governments and even culture. CAREM is a legally organized and approved non-profit organization in the northern state of Baja California. There is no organization of our
As many know, the National Institute of Anthropology and History (INAH) protects and is in control of the historical sites in Mexico including the missions. CAREM works well with INAH in Baja California (northern state). We have assisted in some maintenance, development and presentation to the public of these beautiful missions. We have sponsored a number of tours of the missions in Baja California and some in Baja California Sur. We expect to develop a tour in 2013 of some of the missions in both states.

Another question often asked is: "Are there still church services at the Missions"?

There are at most missions that are standing structures. Some sights where there are only ruins have a church built nearby where services are held.

We look forward to sharing our missions, history and culture with all who are interested.

ALONG THE MISSION TRAIL - A MEMORIAL FOR W. MICHAEL (MIGUEL) MATHES

More than 50 people attended a memorial gathering for long-time CMSA member and mission scholar Dr. W. Michael (Miguel) Mathes two weekends ago at the historic Lummis Home in Los Angeles. Mathes passed away recently after dedicating much of the past several decades to mission studies and research. Throughout his career, he authored nearly 200 books and journals, and was widely respected throughout the U.S. and Latin America. Among those attending the festive memorial were his publisher from Spain, and a long list of colleagues many of whom have been active CMSA members. Michael's family donated many of his prize possessions, including special Medals from the Spanish and Mexican governments to officials from Baja California's CAREM so that the memorabilia can be permanently displayed at CAREM's Miguel Mathes Media Room in Tecate, B.C.

ALONG THE MISSION TRAIL - CMF HOLDS ANNUAL DIRECTORS AND CURATORS CONFERENCE AT
Santa Barbara - The 15th Annual California Mission Foundation's Mission Directors and Curators Conference again brought together representatives of nearly all of the state's 21 Missions to Mission Santa Barbara on September 22. Under the guidance of CMF Vice-chair Kristina Foss, the annual get-together included a variety of talks and panels on, among other things, the life of Junípero Serra as focus shifts to 2013 and the commemoration of his 300th birth year.

After the presentation of a Native Daughters of the Golden West grant by Mission San Jose's Dolores Ferenz, a long-time CMSA member, the program shifted to talks on Mission security, the Serra Cause in the 300th Anniversary Year, preservation of the Baja California Missions, and the panel on Native Americans and Serra: Issues, Pros and Cons of the 300th. This panel included CMSA members Andy Galvan, Nick Tipon, David Belardes, Vincent Media, and Tina Foss along with Chumash descendants Ernestine de Soto, Cynthia Varela and Ernie Pico.

Just prior to lunch in the Mission Santa Barbara Huerta, CMSA Secretary Theresa Brunner received the distinguished Fermín Lasuen Award for her work at Mission San Rafael Arcángel.

The afternoon sessions included a talk by Pentacle Press's David McLaughlin on Serra publications, and CMSA President David Bolton presented his just-released DVD: "The Life, the Legacy and the Missions of Junípero Serra." The day concluded with mass in the Old Mission Church with Fr. Larry Gosselin OFM, formerly of Mission San Miguel, and mission music under the direction of CMSA board member John Warren and his New World Baroque Orchestra.

This photo was taken of the CMSA Publications Committee during the CMF Directors and Curators Conference at Mission Santa Barbara. CMSA held a series of committee meetings and the quarterly CMSA Board meeting, as every CMSA Board member made it to Santa Barbara for the annual CMF gathering. EVENT OF INTEREST - EXHIBIT AT FORT ROSS - TO OPEN ON OCTOBER 20 DURING HARVEST FESTIVAL

A piece of the past has been replicated and now stands at historic Fort Ross. A windmill fabricated in Russia using archaic materials and methods and designed to look like a nineteenth-century version has been installed on the historic Russian settlement as a permanent exhibit. The project was a joint effort led by the Russian non-profit cultural and historic foundation Link of Times, Page & Turnbull, and the Russian design-build team Restoration Center. The exhibit is open to the public and will be officially unveiled on October 20 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. during the traditional Harvest Festival celebration at Fort Ross.
"We were selected for our expertise in historic preservation and familiarity with the State Parks regulations and environmental laws," said a spokesman for Page & Turnbull. "We reconstructed a windmill that remains true to its original design while complying with environmental laws.

William R. Talbot Fine Art announces its representation of the photographer Craig Varjabedian and an exhibition celebrating over 25 years of his work in New Mexico.

The exhibition includes many of Varjabedian’s classic photographs, selections from his recently released book "Landscape Dreams, a New Mexico Portrait," as well as some new work. Both the book and the exhibition are testament to his fruitful relationship with the land and its people including captivating images of mesas, moradas, ranches, ranchers, enduring edifices, and fleeting effects of nature.

Through profound exploration, Varjabedian has laid claim to his chosen themes and made them his own. Using a large-format camera, the photographer walks through time as he walks this land. We sense the intimacy he achieves with his subjects that makes his work accessible and immediate, yet enduring. With his critically acclaimed and award-winning work, Varjabedian joins the ranks of artists whose greatest achievements have been forged by the unique qualities of New Mexico.

"Craig Varjabedian's photography captures, with arresting clarity, the ineffable whispers of time and spirit layered deep in New Mexico's cultural landscape. Through the artful combination of his compassionate eye and technical virtuosity, he evokes the past in the present and the holy in the everyday." (Catherine Whitney, Philbrook Museum)

In the heroic quality of Varjabedian's endeavors and the mastery of his images, New Mexicans can find the likes of their very own Ansel Adams. Moreover, we have the satisfaction of knowing that New Mexico currently enjoys the favors of a dedicated portraitist who appreciates the nuances of a very complex character. Varjabedian's photography is regularly exhibited in museums throughout the country, and now at William R. Talbot Fine Art his work can be appreciated daily right here in Santa Fe.
