A LETTER FROM THE CMSA PRESIDENT - David Bolton

Dear Fellow CMSA Members:

I hope that everyone had a great Holiday season, and that the new year is starting off well for all. How time flies! Just under a month until our 30th anniversary conference, the 2013 edition at Santa Barbara, gets underway on February 15.

It is shaping up to be a very interesting weekend, as the conference begins with an optional lunch on the grounds of El Presidio de Santa Bárbara (yes Pozole is back by popular demand!). For the first time, the always informative and enjoyable CMSA paper presentations will begin on Friday afternoon at El Presidio in the Chapel, followed by our Keynote Address by Serra biographer Steve Hackel. That first evening we have two special events -- the annual hosted reception at historic Casa de la Guerra (5:15-6:45 pm) and then the farewell concert (7-9 pm) of talented John Warren, his New Baroque orchestra, los Soldados and a guest performance by Elisabeth Waldo inside the impressive church at the Old Mission. Wow, and this will just be the first day!

Saturday we are dedicating the day to Old Mission Santa Barbara, with a morning continental breakfast and tour of the Mission's La Huerta. Our breakfast this year is again sponsored by CyArk, dedicated to the digital recording of many historic structures, and foundations including our Missions and other sites located along El Camino Real and worldwide. Papers will be presented all day Saturday at the Old Mission, beginning at 8:30 am. An optional lunch (Pozole and sandwiches on the menu) will be held in the Huerta. Afternoon paper sessions conclude at 3:30 pm when Conference attendees are invited to participate in three walking tours: the Mission Archive Library, the extensive Mission water system, and hidden treasures of the Mission. Each tour lasts roughly 25 minutes, and attendees will be assigned groups, A, B and C, and rotated every thirty minutes between tours. Saturday concludes with the Annual Awards Banquet and Special tribute to retired California Missions Foundation Executive Director Knox Mellon at the Mission-revival Montecito Country Club overlooking and Edna Kimbro Awards plus the special tribute to Knox Mellon.

Sunday the 2013 Conference wraps up at El Presidio with a mass in the Chapel at 9 a.m. featuring the famed Serra chalice, followed by a re-enactment of Father Junipero Serra raising the founding cross at what he called at the time, the founding of "El Presidio y la misión de Santa Bárbara." The conference concludes with a special gathering for Mission Docents and Living History participants back inside the Presidio Chapel as everyone has the opportunity to hear the many success stories and challenges of this important part of our mission family.

Be sure to attend if you can; it is a CMSA Conference that you will not want to miss. We look forward to celebrating together 30 years of this fine organization -- CMSA.

All of us were saddened last week by the sudden passing of popular TV personality Huell Howser. He was a friend and admirer of everything Mission and everything related to California history, culture and personality. A special memorial service was held last night at the Griffith Observatory. Hundreds turned out to show their respects. I'm sure that if he were able to see the gathering from above, he would probably have used his famous phrase, "That's amazing". He will be truly missed, as so many of us have enjoyed his reports from throughout this state for many, many years on PBS. Thank you Huell for helping to tell the story so well.

CMSA CONFERENCE 2013 - CMSA SPEAKER SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

The complete speaker schedule has been finalized and is included here on the link below. CMSA is looking forward to an excellent conference at Santa Barbara, February 15-17, 2013 and greatly appreciates everyone that submitted an abstract to be selected as a conference presenter.

To accommodate everyone and to avoid double sessions, we are introducing new this year a full afternoon of talks on Friday the 15th prior to the annual reception and evening concert. "We want our page to be the first stop for anyone seeking information on this important part of our history."

"The new web page includes most of the traditional information found on the old CMSA site including access to previous articles, publications, award winners, conference information and the ability to join or renew as a CMSA Member," said CMSA President David Bolton. SPECIAL SPEAKERS SELECTED FOR 2013 CMSA CONFERENCE - DR. STEVEN HACKEL AND DR. RUBEN MENDOZA

Two well-respected and highly regarded experts have been chosen to present a pair of special talks at the upcoming 2013 CMSA Conference February 15-17, 2013 in Santa Barbara.

Dr. Steven Hackel, a professor at UC Riverside, author of the upcoming biography on Junípero Serra and co-Curator for the much anticipated Serra exhibit scheduled for next year at the Huntington Library in Pasadena, will give the CMSA Conference Keynote Address on Friday, February 15 inside the El Presidio de Santa Bárbara Chapel. The Keynote, titled "Junípero Serra and the Super Natural," will begin at 4:00 p.m. and will immediately precede the hosted CMSA Reception for all conference attendees. The Keynote Address will be the highlight of an entire slate of presentations held for the first time on the Friday afternoon of the Conference.

The following day, Dr. Rubén Mendoza will give the annual special post-lunch presentation: "Illuminations at the Serra Missions and Presidios." This talk will begin at 1:00 p.m. at Mission Santa Barbara, site of the day-long Conference Paper Presentations on Saturday, February 16. Mendoza is an archaeologist, writer, and photographer. He has directed major archaeological investigations and conservation projects at missions San Juan Bautista, San Carlos Borromeo de Carmelo, and Nuestra Señora de la Soledad, among others. Recent efforts at the Royal Presidio of Monterey resulted in the tandem discovery of the earliest Fray Junípero Serra chapels in California, dated at 1770 and 1771. His Mission Solstice Survey has, in turn, resulted in the astronomically and liturgically-significant discoveries of solstice, equinox, and feast day solar illuminations of mission church altars throughout California, the US Southwest, and Mesoamerica.

Registration for the 2013 CMSA Conference will begin on-line in December. More details to follow in both the November and December editions of the Correo.

BUEN PROVECHO! - CMSA'S FOOD CORNER - PASTEL OR PIE DE TRES LECHES

By David Bolton

One of my favorite desserts out of Mexico is anything Tres Leches. The 'three milks' cakes and pies have a rich creamy flavor that mixes well with any kind of filling. A couple days before this past Christmas, a friend of mine from deep in the heart of Central Mexico showed me how to make a Pie de Tres Leches -- it was a Guava Pie soaked in the three milks: equal parts condensed, evaporated and whole milk. Wow! After it soaked overnight, the cake took on a wet and sweet texture that was so ever good. I had sampled Tres Leches many times before during a variety of trips throughout Mexico, but now having seen it prepared, how easy it is, and how different and enjoyable it is as a pleasant change of pace from our normal desserts. Give it a try. You'll enjoy it, and your family and guests will too. Buen Provecho!

PASTEL DE GUAYABA - TRES LECHEs (Guava Cake with Three Milks)

Cook's note: The Guayaba or Guava filling can be substituted for any fruit filling. Just prepare the fruit filling the same way as below.

Also, this recipe can be cut in half to make a smaller cake by reducing everything in 1/2 below

INGREDIENTS:

7 cups Buttermilk Pancake Flour - sifted

7 Eggs

2 Cups Sugar

3 Cups Canola Oil

3 Cups Milk

1 Tablespoon Baking Powder

1 Teaspoon Vanilla Extract

3 dashes of Cinnamon

2 Deep Pie Molds - Hard Aluminum or Ceramic Pie Pans (at least 2 inches tall)

INSTRUCTIONS:

Butter pans, then lightly cover with flour

In large bowl, sift flour

Add all other ingredients

Mix in a mixer until all blended

Spread this mixture evenly in two large cake pans

Cook 350 degrees, 45 mins each pan

Once cooked and cooled, place in the refrigerator, cover with plastic wrap until ready to eat (up to 2 days out)

To Make Tres Leches Sauce:

In a Blender

Mix: Equal parts

1 can Condensed milk

1 can Evaporated milk

Whole milk equal to one can

One evening prior to serving, remove cakes from refrigerator.

One cake will be the lower half; one cake will be the upper half with the filling in the middle.

On lower-half-cake, smother slowly with Tres Leches Sauce so cake absorbs (maybe poke holes so it enters). Don't pour too quickly as you do not want the sauce to run over the edges but rather be absorbed by the cake.

Then spread Guayaba mixture (sliced Guayabas mashed with lime juice and sugar -- see below)

Before adding top half of cake, smear the underside of the top piece with 1/3 of the frosting (see below):

Poke holes on top of top cake and add remaining milk mixture so it absorbs

Then use rest of frosting to smear around the outside of the cake -- all sides, top and bottom

Let sit in the refrigerator to harden a bit, and then serve

It is awesome. Enjoy! Buen Provecho! Serves 8-10 slices

Guayaba Filling

In a bowl:

Cut Guayaba ends off

Cut Guayabas in half

Squeeze juice of one lime and ½ cup sugar over Guayabas

Mash all together

Frosting Recipe:

2 bars cream cheese

1 stick butter

2 cups powder sugar

Buen Provecho!

JUNIPERO SERRA 300 - CMSA HELPS CELEBRATE A MEMORABLE BIRTHDAY

Images of Fr. Junipero Serra, Photos Courtesy of Cultural Global Media

In 2013, Mission followers around the world will join in the celebration of the 300th Anniversary of legendary Fray Junípero Serra's birthday and birth year.

CMSA kicks off the year-long festivities with its annual Conference, February 15-17, 2013 in Santa Barbara - the last place Serra raised the founding cross as he established what he noted was 'the founding of the Presidio and Mission' at Santa Barbara.

Additionally, events commemorating this special 300th anniversary will be held throughout the year from Mallorca, Spain -- Serra's birthplace -- to Querétaro, Mexico and Alta California -- places of Serra's famed missionary work.

Here in Correo, we plan to keep you up-to-date with the latest calendar of events celebrating the 300th birthday and birth year of who many call the Father of Alta California's missions.

Please let us know of Serra related events in your area so that we can keep everyone informed. Email us anytime at JuniperoSerra300@ca-missions.org

As Serra so often said, Siempre Adelante, Nunca Atras ... Always Forward, Never Back

It will be a memorable year in 2013. Please join in the festivities.

FATHER JUNIPERO SERRA FACTS

Here in Correo, we plan to bring you interesting tidbits of this famed missionary's life each month leading up to his 300th Birthday on November 24, 2013.

1770

Father Serra arrived at Monterey aboard the sailing ship San Antonio on June 1, 1770. He celebrated the first Mass on June 3, 1770, on the shore of Monterey Bay, where we now find the city of Monterey.

1776

He returned to San Diego to work on the mission there, then founded Mission San Juan Capistrano in 1776, the year of the American Declaration of Independence.

Next month: Final years

The church was built of a volcanic rock known as tezontle, which was commonly used in colonial/era structures in Mexico City.

That is all that remains from the Apostolic College of San Fernando. This was the institution in Mexico City that sent Serra and his colleagues, and that administered the California missions.

SERRA 300 EVENT: "MISSIONS, MYTHS, AND MEMORIES: THE LIFE AND LEGACIES OF JUNIPERO SERRA," EXHIBITION AT HUNTINGTON LIBRARY, AUGUST 17, 2013 - JANUARY 6, 2014

"Missions, Myths, and Memories: The Life and Legacies of Junípero Serra"
Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens
Virginia Steele Scott Galleries, Erburu Wing
Aug. 17, 2013 - Jan. 6, 2014

The 300th anniversary of the birth of one of the most influential, yet least understood, figures in California history will be marked by a major exhibition at The Huntington Library, Art Collections, and Botanical Gardens. With more than 200 objects drawn from The Huntington's collections and some 50 international lenders, "Missions, Myths, and Memories: The Life and Legacies of Junípero Serra" will be the first exhibition to present an in-depth portrait of the founder of the California mission system. It will examine the Early Modern Catholic worlds of Spain and Mexico where Serra (1713 -1784) was born, lived, and worked; the ways in which Native American life and culture were at the center of Serra's missions; and the emergence of competing versions of Serra's legacy through time. The exhibition will coincide with the publication of Father Junipero Serra: California's Founding Father (Hill & Wang) by exhibition co-curator Steven Hackel, professor of history at the University of California, Riverside.

If your docent group has developed an innovative program, produced a book, organized a lecture series, developed a training website, custom-tailored a special tour, or undertaken any activity that might serve as an example for other groups of mission docents, kindly relay your accomplishment to us in an email to docents@ca-missions.org. ALONG THE MISSION TRAIL - MISSION DOLORES - PLANTING DAFFODIL AND TULIP BULBS AT KATERI TEKAWITHA STATUE

Andy Galvan standing next to statue of Kateri Tekawitha at Mission Dolores on New Year's Day, 2013.

Happy 2013,

There is an old saying "how and where you spend New Year's Eve is how you will spend the New Year."

Well, yesterday afternoon, I spent some quality "me-time" in the cemetery at Old Mission Dolores, San Francisco.

I planted over 100 daffodil bulbs and 50 tulip bulbs at the Kateri Tekawitha statue...the bulbs were a gift of Dora Bellefontaine in honor of her son Michael (d. 2007).

The rose trees were planted in late September in honor of Saint Kateri Tehawitha's Canonization on October 21, 2012. The rose trees were funded through gifts to the Curator's Office, partial funding was gifted through Sister Celeste Arbuckle, SSS, and her religious community of The Sisters of Social Service.

Now the wait is on for Brother Sun and Sister Water and Mother Earth to do their thing in the next few months.....

Later this week and next week more daffodil bulbs and tulip bulbs will be planted, and towards the end of January the gladiola bulbs get planted.

On Saturday, February 23rd, in partnership with staff members from the Golden Gate National Parks Conservancy and the San Francisco Presidio, Mission Dolores will host a Planting Fiesta. While participants will be planting a native Ohlone Plant garden in the Mission Dolores Cemetery, the ultimate goal is to highlight the historical connection between the SF Presidio and the Old Mission Dolores. There will be a couple of educational plant games for the young ones in attendance. Other activities will relate to the history of the SF Presidio and the Old Mission Dolores; and there will be a special focus on the Ohlone and the different plants that are important to Ohlone Culture.

Stayed tuned for more updates, as everything is blooming in 2013 at Old Mission Dolores in the Ohlone Village of Chutchui.....

Horse icab warep that's Chochenyo Ohlone for Happy New Year...

Andy

ALONG THE MISSION TRAIL - MISSION SAN XAVIER DEL BAC, TUCSON - UPDATE FROM BERNARD (BUNNY) FONTANA

Hi, everyone!

What follows is a message I had foolishly hoped would never need to be sent, planning, as I had, to die peacefully in my sleep in my bed in the Fontana desert adobe at 7710 S. Mission Road within a mile of Mission San Xavier del Bac.

Fate would not have it that way, and without going into long and boring medical details, suffice it to say that three weeks ago I wound up in the University of Arizona Medical Center's hospital barely able to breath and with excruciating chest pains. It turns out that the source of the problem, one that's been creeping up on this old (soon to be 82 years) body for at least the last four or five years, is something called multiple myeloma.

<http://www.mayoclinic.com/health/multiple-myeloma/DS00415>

The condition, essentially a form of cancer of the bone marrow, had gone undiagnosed for years due largely to my willingness to attribute increasing shortness of breath and decreasing height to old age and lack of exercise rather than to some pinpointed underlying medical cause. The good news, should such be the case, is that the condition is more-or-less treatable (intravenous steroid dose once a month). If I'm lucky, in a few weeks or months I should be able to get around again freely without having to be tethered to an external oxygen supply and my life will return to some semblance of "normal."

Son and daughter, Nick and Francesca, and niece Judy (brother's daughter, who's a retired R.N.) oversaw things during the six days I was in the hospital. They knew if I returned to the house where I'd lived ever so happily since summer of 1956 that they may never get me out of there again -- so they had a moving van bring furniture and other belongings from there to my new digs where I arrived directly from the hospital two weeks ago as of yesterday (a Saturday).

I'm now residing in a two-bedroom apartment that's a part of an assisted living facility called Amber Lights.

http://www.srgseniorliving.com/assisted_living/Tucson_AZ/zip_85704/senior_resource_group_llc/4139

The address is Apt. 205, 6231 N. Montebella Road, Tucson, AZ 85704. The phone number remains 520/883-3145. There will soon be a new email address, but the mindspring address continues to work for now.

This should be my permanent home between now and the end.

Please know that as assisted living facilities go, this is a fine one. Apparently none of the 200 or so guests suffer from any serious mental disabilities, and any casual observer would correctly label the place as an apartment complex for elderly folks. Three (pretty good) meals are served daily, either in the dining hall or, of one prefers, in one's own room. The place is cleaned weekly; there is laundry service; and there is a staff of cheery young workers ready to lend you hand at the push of a button. I get ferried up and down the halls in a wheel chair. Visiting hours are all day long; company's always welcome as are your emails, snail mail, etc . etc. (I stubbornly resist Facebook and other such ties).

And theree you have a synopsis of the most recent chapter in the book of Bunny adventures.

Fondly,
B.

ALONG THE MISSION TRAIL - MISSION SOLEDAD - ARCHAEOLOGICAL UPDATES

Mission Soledad

(2012) Greenwood and Associates completed an excavation of the north wing and the area west of the quadrangle. This excavation will help pave the way to allow placement of a roof over the original adobe walls in order to try to save them from erosion and to landscape the area designated for auxiliary buildings, the caretaker's home, and the future BBQ area.

Dr. Mendoza and his students from California State University at Monterey Bay (a volunteer club) discovered the sacristy attached to the church. They were also able to determine that the soldiers' quarters were not attached to the church.

From Junípero Serra Before California Touring Exhibition

The Museum of Monterey announces The Year of the Missions, a cycle of exhibitions focusing on missions in central Mexico, coastal California, and the American Southwest.

Curated by Dr. Julianne Burton-Carvajal for the 2nd floor gallery, the series will launch on Saturday, November 24, 2012 and conclude on the same date in 2013 - the tricentennial of Serra's birth.

The intervening year will feature commemorative events throughout California as well as in Serra's native island of Mallorca and the regions of Mexico (then the Viceroyalty of New Spain) where he trained and embraced his first missionary assignments between 1750 and 1769.

The exhibition cycle begins with Junípero Serra & Company Before California:

Their Five Folk-Baroque Missions in Central Mexico -

Photographs by Jeffrey Becom, Line Drawings by Richard Perry (through January 20).

The remaining three exhibitions in the series emphasize the California mission heritage:

Riding the Mission Trail in 1903 with Artist-Cowboy Jo Mora:

Sketches, Watercolors, and Journal Excerpts (January 26 - April 28);

Missions of California & the Southwest:

The Final Series Painted by Will Sparks between 1934 and 1937 (May 4 - July 28);

From Ruin to Restoration:

California's 18th Century Mission Legacy Meets 21st Century Conservation Techniques (August 3 - November 24, 2013).

The 14th Colony: An NEH Summer Workshop for K-12 Teachers

By Ruben Mendoza, Jewel Gentry, and Jennifer Lucido

[Monterey, CA] The "Fourteenth Colony" is devoted to the exploration of the Spanish colonial missions of California's storied Monterey Bay. Two six-day residential workshops spanning the weeks of July 7 through 13, and July 13 through 19, 2013, will address the tumultuous and often controversial era of The Fourteenth Colony: California Indians, Missions, Presidios, and Colonists on the Hispanic Frontier, 1769-1848. This program will consist of historic landmarks tours and lectures, art history and indigenous food and culture orientations, discussion forums, and traditional craft and technology demonstrations presented by community scholars, museum curators, musicians, and leading scholars of California and Southwest Spanish colonial mission studies.

Faculty and community scholars participating in this NEH workshop program were selected with an eye to enhancing the learning experience of participating teachers. A preeminent group of archaeologists, art, architectural, and social historians, musicologists, conservators, curators, linguists, religious and community scholars directly engaged in Mission studies have committed to participating in the NEH Landmarks of American History and Culture Summer Workshops for School Teachers in the California missions.

K-12 Teacher Eligibility

We seek a diverse cohort of eighty K-12 teachers to participate in this NEH Landmarks of American History and Culture Workshop for School Teachers. Awardees receive a $1200 stipend for their stay on the Monterey Bay, and will be afforded opportunities for professional development, collegial interaction, and access to noted scholars and fellow educators. The program as such will consist of historic landmarks tours, art history and indigenous food and culture orientations, and lectures and discussions.

We will convene our workshops in beautiful Monterey Bay at the Asilomar Conference grounds. A National Register of Historic Places landmark, Asilomar is located within the forested coastal environs of Pacific Grove (<http://www.visitasilomar.com/>). Asilomar and the Monterey Bay thereby provide an incomparable setting for exploring European-American Indian contact, as well as the subsequent Spanish Mission and Mexican eras, and early American developments of the region. We are thrilled to host the NEH American Landmarks of American History and Culture Workshops for School Teachers summer program on the Monterey Bay. We will treat participants to guided tours and demonstrations within the historic California landmarks of San Juan Bautista, San Miguel, San Antonio, San Carlos Borromeo, and the Royal Presidio of Monterey. Over the course of six days a stellar group of regional and national specialists in Spanish mission and Native Californian studies, including internationally and regionally renowned experts and community scholars, will lead key lectures and discussions.

To Apply

Applicants are encouraged to apply for either Workshop 1 (July 7 - 13, 2013), or Workshop 2 (July 13 - 19, 2013) as their first choice. While we will attempt to honor your first choice, we may not be able to accommodate all preferences. Please note, however, that though minor differences in speakers' schedules may distinguish Workshops 1 and 2, the Workshops are otherwise structured alike. See our website at <http://The14thColony.org>, or go to the National Endowment for the Humanities program website at <http://www.neh.gov/divisions/education/summer-programs> for further information.

Step 1: Complete NEH Cover Page

You must first register with the NEH American Landmarks website so as to express your intent to apply for consideration of your inclusion in the selected workshop program. The Internet address for submitting your registration is that of: <https://securegrants.neh.gov/education/participants/>

Step 2: Submit Personal Narrative

Summarize professional background and interests in NEH workshop in essay of one double-spaced page; special perspectives, skills, or experiences that you believe would contribute to the workshop; and how residential workshop would enhance your teaching or school service.

Step 3: Accommodations Request

Each participating teacher will register in advance with the Asilomar Housing Bureau for the purpose of securing their required meal plan and/or lodging, and will do so by way of providing a valid credit card and identification. See <http://www.visitasilomar.com/> for additional information. NEH provides a $1,200 stipend award to each participant selected for the summer workshop to defray expenses for lodging and meals.

Step 4: Await Notification

Completed applications should be submitted to the project director, not the NEH, and postmarked no later than March 4, 2013. Application materials sent to the NEH will not be reviewed. Successful applicants will be notified of their selection on April 1, 2013, and they will have until April 5, 2013 to accept or decline the offer. See Landmarks workshops at <http://www.neh.gov/divisions/education/summer-programs>
